From the AYHD Board

Two Workshops at Cambridge University

There will be two workshops hosted by the Cambridge Group for the History of Population and Social Structure in 2026 to which young/early career historical demographers are encouraged to apply! The first is ‘An Informal Introduction to Formal Demography’ run by Robert Chung (Berkeley) 23-27 March 2026. The workshop is free, but attendees will be responsible for their own travel and accommodation. Space is limited, so if interested send your CV and a 250-word statement of motivation to campop@geog.cam.ac.uk by 19 January 2026. And/or come to Cambridge 6-17 July 2026 for the ESHD Summer Training School: ‘Micro-Census Insights into Historical Households, Mortality and Fertility.’ Some funding is available for PhD students or recent graduates. The application deadline is 2 February 2026, more info below!

“One Epidemic, Many Estimates” (1EME)

One of our Board members, Hampton (h.g.gaddy@lse.ac.uk), is organising a “many analysts” project on excess mortality modelling. Researchers are welcome to sign up, by themselves or in groups, to receive the same harmonised set of mortality data related to the 1918 influenza pandemic in the United States and then to model the pandemic’s excess mortality using the model of their choice. Then, participants will be invited to attend a workshop at the London School of Economics on 21–22 May 2026 (bursaries available) and to contribute to a joint journal article that reports the excess mortality estimates and recommends best practices. You can find out more details here!

Spotlight Article

Every newsletter we will spotlight one article or working paper by a young historical demographer or researcher in an adjacent field. Would you like to have your work shared or do you know a recent paper that deserves to be spotlighted? Send an email to Joris (joris.kok@ru.nl) with information on the research you would like to see shared.

This newsletter's spotlight article is:

What's in a (Jewish) Name?
Identifying Jews in Dutch Civil Certificates, 1811–1932

Published in Historical Methods by Joris Kok (Radboud University).
